about?

Coming September 2005

The new, Internet-based Test of English as a Foreign Language™ (TOEFL iBT) will be introduced in phases starting in September 2005. TOEFL iBT assesses all four skills that are important for effective communication: speaking, listening, reading and writing.

Why is the new TOEFL iBT better for me?

- TOEFL iBT assesses speaking skills.
- TOEFL iBT uses integrated tasks that reflect how English is used in college and university settings. For example, you may be asked to read, listen, and then speak in response to a question.
- Because TOEFL iBT uses integrated tasks, your scores will best reflect your true ability to use English.
- Internet-based testing makes it possible to measure speaking skills in a standardized way that is fair to everyone.
- Performance feedback on your score report will help you improve your skills.
- TOEFL iBT will be available at thousands of test centers worldwide.
- Online test registration and score reporting are convenient.

The only official TOEFL® practice site

A new Web site designed just for you!

TOEFL Practice Online is an online community designed to help you prepare for the TOEFL test and improve your English skills.

How can I become a member?

You can become a member of TOEFL Practice Online free at www.ets.org/toeflpractice/member.

What's available once I sign up?

When you join the online community you can access free resources, including

- Speaking sample questions and responses
- Listening and Reading practice questions (about 30 in total)
- discussion boards and daily study tips

Other resources are available for purchase with a credit card, including

- a TOEFL iBT practice test that provides instant scores and feedback on the skills you need to improve. This single-use test includes the Reading, Listening, and Writing sections, and sample Speaking responses (US $20).
- access to over 300 additional Listening and Reading practice questions for 90 days (US $40).

Special Offer

Receive a 10% discount on the practice materials listed above by entering code STFLY35 in the promotional code box during check-out. Pass the discount code on to your friends, family and teachers.

How can I practice my speaking skills?

You can practice for the new Speaking section and receive a score by purchasing a separate Speaking practice test for US $30. You can take this test over the telephone anytime. Long distance phone charges to the United States apply.

Later in 2005, the Speaking section will be included in the practice test, so all four sections can be taken online, just like the new TOEFL iBT.
